Hi there. I'm 55 years young and a New York City transplant living in the Orlando area in the city of Sanford. I've been performing professionally since I was 18, mostly here in Florida or with Florida based groups. However, composing music is my second love and this site is all about sharing it with all who are interested in listening. Please check the link to my own web site to hear more if you wish.

I would love to hear from you with any feedback. Thanks. I'm mostly influenced by the classic masters such as Mozart and Beethoven. At the same time I'm tempered by the many composers of film and ambient music over the past sixty years. I'm not so original in what I write and record, it's more of where my music takes you. I hope you enjoy listening. I don't try to sound like anyone. That's for you to decide. I would appreciate any feedback that you care to share with me.
